SUFFRAGE AND DIVORCE.

Woman Suffrage Decreases Divorces in Wyoming.

The woman suffragists are circulating a tract discussing the effect of woman suffrage in Wyoming. The pamphlet quotes several prominent Wyoming men who endorse woman suffrage in that state. The surprising statement is made that woman suffrage will decrease divorces. The tract says:

"We shall have to have woman suffrage to save the home. How to prevent divorce, and maintain the sacred institution of the home is the problem of the day. Wyoming shields more the marriage of its daughters than any other western state, requiring parental consent for the marriage of any girl under twenty-one. The average duration of marriage before divorce, when persons have been married twenty-one years or over, is considerably longer in Wyoming than in the average of the western group and in the average of the whole United States, showing that the married condition of even the unhappily mated, is more bearable than elsewhere. The per cent of divorces granted to wives in the United States is very much larger than to husbands, while in Wyoming the difference is much smaller than the average, and it must certainly be for the safety of domestic relations that the bonds should be as bearable to one sex as the other. This certainly is a point in favor of woman's equality before the law."

"Statistics show that contrary to the prevailing opinion, divorces are very largely granted where the marriage was celebrated, but of the few divorces obtained in Wyoming almost all are of those married before going to that state. So while we can well conceive what a shock it must be to marry men immigrating to Wyoming, to find themselves for the first time in their lives forced to see at their residences a legal and political equal."

ONE OF THE OLD "SONS."

A Man Whose Father Was in the Revolutionary War.

W. T. Scott, who came over from Holton to attend the meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution, is 83 years old and does not look more than 65. His step is firm and he converses readily upon any subject and travels alone. He is perhaps the only member of the society whose father participated in the Revolutionary war. His father, Samuel Scott, was a resident of North Carolina and served as a minute man in 1780.

Mr. Scott attends nearly all the meetings of the society and likes to talk about the old times. He was the youngest of a family of fifteen children and all grew to manhood and womanhood. Only one, his next younger sister is now living.

Mr. Scott left this afternoon for home.

Satelli Doesn't Know It.

QUEBEC, Oct. 19.—Monsieur Satelli left here this evening for Washington. His secretary, Abbe Papi, said in regard to the report that Monsiengneur Satelli is about to be created a cardinal: "The ablegate is not aware of the promotion alluded to. His grace has no intelligence so far of his elevation in the Roman Catholic hierarchy."

Not so Much Afraid of Kaffirs. LONDON, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Johannesburg says that the excitement at Lourenco Marques, Delagoa Bay, is quieting down. It is said, however, that the town is still surrounded by large numbers of Kaffirs.
